

PROFESSIONAL STAFF IN THE DEPARTMENT OF LABORATORY MEDICINE

The Department of Laboratory Medicine at the National University provides professional laboratory services in NUH, as well as for the other institutions in Singapore and in the region. We offer a full range of routine and specialised tests that can be reviewed in our service catalogue.

Our staff are skilled in their field of work and are able to advise on many aspects of laboratory testing. Our technologists, clinicians and scientists from all specialties work together to provide testing and consultancy services, including the correct test selection, interpretation of test results, and solving potential problems with possible interferences.
